"Brain Power" is a program that will analyze the structure of the audio files in a folder, and will look for the most used instruments. The result will be a list in the bottom of the screen that includes an automatic score of the audio file and the list of the instruments used. How to use: - Open the folder that contains your music - Select "Brain Power" from the file menu - Wait for the analysis to be completed - Double click on the file to open the file in your music player (if your music player has an audio input function). The output of the program is a.WAV file. Screenshot: Oktoberfest is almost over, but the fun is not over yet! OpenSound24 is preparing an audio collection containing all the oktoberfest soundscapes from 1872-1875. There are more than 400 minutes of music. Get the overview of the collection in our website: The tradition of Oktoberfest has gone through the years without interruption. In the beginning it was a family event where you could enjoy the music in the open air while sipping a stein of beer. The tradition was started in Munich in 1718. The first Oktoberfest was held in 1810 in which 1.6 million people showed up. This year, we are celebrating Oktoberfest 2018 at the St. Jakob-Quartier. The Oktoberfest will continue
